transferring vessels to private hands.

operate with British manufacturers to secure the repeal of the British restric-

SHIPPING.

LAST YEAR'S OUTPUT
LOWEST SINCE 1908.

1922 will be known in many other industries than shipbuilding and engineering as one of the worst years in industrial depression, when the very depths of stagnation were plumbed in a manner which was hardly thought possible.

Figures can express more shortly than words what this has meant to the shipbuilding industry, and the figures for 1922 show that approximately 1,432,720 tons of shipping were launched during the twelve months now passed. This amounts to some half million tons less than last year—had enough in all conscience—and is the lowest total production since the critical year of 1908.

Of the million odd tons that were launched, the Clyde and the Tyne claim the major shares. As regards the first named, some 390,000 tons were launched, while machinery was constructed totalling about 357,000 i.h.p. In the previous year these figures were 514,000
gross tons and 478,000 i.h.p.

Tyneside claims roughly about one-quarter of the output for 1922, or 40 vessels of 237,000 tons, which compare with 65 ships of 369,000
tons.

HIGHEST OUTPUT FOR 1922.

Some of the principal figures for individual firms are as follow:—

Harland and Wolff, Ltd., Belfast, Glasgow, and Greenock 113,927
Swan, Hunter, and Wig-
ham Richardson, Ltd., Wallsend, Walker, and Wear 74,486
Sir W. G. Armstrong,
Whitworth, and Co.,
Walker 54,689
Workman, Clark, and Co.,
Belfast 51,095

For the previous year the figures were:—
Messrs. Armstrong, Whitworth,
88,899 tons.
Messrs. Swan, Hunter, and Wigham Richardson, 92,815
tons.
Palmer's Shipbuilding Co., 80,010
tons.
Messrs. Harland and Wolff, 69,763
tons.

It is interesting to note in view of these statements that Messrs.
Harland and Wolff at present stand in what can be regarded as a unique position inasmuch as they employ more men than in pre-war days, at Belfast alone, no less than 15,000 men are employed, at a weekly wage of £45,000.

Prospects for the immediate future are brighter than they have been for some time. Several announcements regarding new orders for tonnage have appeared in these columns recently, but one must not jump lightly to the conclusion that a few orders constitute a shipbuilding boom any more than one swal-

OFFICERS' MESS SCENE.

CAPT. COURT-MARTIALED.

Capt. Gerald Dighton Bailey,
M.C., 1st Dorset Regiment, was charged before a general court-martial at Aldershot with being drunk and also with creating a disturbance in the officers' mess of the regiment at Malvern Barracks at midnight on Sunday, December 17. Mr.
Cecil Whiteley, K.C., defending, pleaded not guilty.

Lieut. H. Hammond said that, hearing shouts of "Waiter, waiter," and a loud crash of glass, he went to Capt. Bailey's room and found him drunk. He was in the room about five seconds. Capt. Bailey was in his pyjamas and had a kind of skirt round his legs.

Three mess waiters spoke of seeing Capt. Bailey struggling in a passage with Pte. Samson, whom he was trying to force to his room.

One waiter said that after Capt.
Bailey had asked Private Samson
to come to his room and Samson had refused, Capt. Bailey caught Samson by the tunic and pulled him into the passage, Samson struggled to get away, and Private Palmer came to his assistance, and eventually got him away.

Capt. Bailey denied on oath that he was drunk.

Lieuts. Arnold and Kemp, who were with Capt. Bailey, denied that he was drunk and said that he was quite able to command his company
all the time.

The court found the prisoner not guilty of drunkenness, and proceeded to hear evidence on the second charge.

The decision of the court on this charge will on confirmation be promulgated.

low makes a summer (incidentally another 1922 fiasco). When such well known leaders of the industry as Sir George B. Hunter and Mr.
Launcelet E. Smith say that their respective organisations are taking work merely to keep going, and in many cases at a loss, there can be no justification for undue jubilation.

WORK IN HAND.
Among the new construction which will take shape in 1923, the orders for the capital ships take pride of place, closely followed by the gigantic floating dock which Messrs. Armstrong, Whitworth,
and Co., Ltd., are building for
"Southampton." The Union S.S.
Co.'s Diesel passenger ship, as of particular note; some few other passenger ships have been laid down, and are not yet completed.

The placing of orders by Alfred Holt and Co. is significant, while large steamers, colliers, and general cargo boats provide the remainder of the orders.

It can, however, be truthfully said that in a very large number of cases shipbuilders and marine engineers have advantage of their enforced idleness to put their houses in order, so that when the outlook is more optimistic, improved methods of production, better engines, and careful attention to various details will keep costs low and tempt shipowners into the market.
Freedom from labour disputes and practical team work, backed by efficient brains can accomplish a great deal.

ERUPTIONS ON BABY'S EAR

And Chin. Itched and Burned. Cuticura Healed.

"At the age of four months my baby broke out with a wet eruption on the top of his ear, and after two months it broke out on his chin and spread all around his ear. He used to scratch as the eruptions were itching and burning, and at night he would scream with agony and irritation. It made him thin, pale and pale. I read how Cuticura helped others and I sent for a free sample. I bought more, and in less than three weeks he was healed." WIFE AND SEPARATEHAN ST.*DIVORCE DAMAGES FOR HUSBAND.

How a husband discovered an intrigue between his wife, a concert party singer, and a pianist was described in the Divorce Court before Mr. Justice Horridge.

Petitioner, Waldron Rose, an insurance agent, of St. Andrew's Road, Enfield, was granted a decree nisi, with £500 damages against the co-respondent, a man named Picton, professionally known as Ronald Knight. There was no defence.

Mr. Rose, in reply to Mr. Cotes Preedy, said there was one child of the marriage, which took place in May, 1914. His wife performed under the name of Sheila Brady, her real Christian name being Evelyn Miriam.

In 1920 she joined a summer concert party at Dovercourt. He raised no objection because he was to go and stay down there, during that time. She went there the last week of June, 1920, and as she eventually wrote that she could not find rooms he could not go to Dovercourt. The first week in August he saw her at Felixstowe.

On the 22nd of that month they met at a restaurant in Soho, when she said she was catching the 3.20 train back, and expressed a desire that he should not go.

On leaving her, he went straight to Liverpool-street station and watched every train leave until midnight, without seeing her. The following morning she wrote that she had arrived safely the afternoon before and was writing. She wrote fairly constantly while she was away—usually from Dovercourt, but in two or three cases from Ilfracombe and the Channel Islands.

He had been introduced to the co-respondent, continued petitioner, at Liverpool-street station, when his wife first went to Dovercourt.

Later in August—witness, got a letter from his wife written from Upper Gloucester-place, Baker-street, W., and as a number of letters he had written to her at Dovercourt had been returned by the Post-Office he rang up Dovercourt on the telephone. In consequence he went to Upper Gloucester-place, and asked for Miss Brady. He was told that she was not up, but he insisted on seeing her.

A SURPRISE VISIT. Going up to a bedroom on the first floor, he met Knight in his pyjamas and a dressing gown coming out of the room.

He rushed in and saw his wife in a nightdress. He at once ordered Knight out of the room.

As he was very much attached to his wife, said witness, he offered to forgive her if she would give Knight up, and they had a long talk in Hyde Park. She said she could not make up her mind, and did not want to say anything definite.

He also tried to get Knight to agree to see no more of her, and Knight said he would not give any decision, and the matter rested with Mrs. Rose. She went back to Felixstowe, and witness accompanied her, and they stayed two nights together. She still refused to say whether she would give up the man.

NEWS OF A CHILD. He subsequently learned that she gave birth to a child in April, 1921.

Mabel Carter, a nursemaid in the employ of the respondent at Upper Gloucester-place, said Mrs. Rose was living with Knight at that address for three weeks before the husband came on the scene. In September they moved to a flat at Coburg-mansions, still occupying the same room.

Keep PEPS Always Handy& Ward off Throat & Lung Dangers.

NEVER be without Peps if you are readily susceptible to colds, chills and throat troubles. Condensed into novel tablet form, Peps contain potent essences of unique healing and germicidal power.

When you remove the silver wrapper, and let a Peps tablet dissolve slowly on the tongue, the volatile medicinal fumes given off are instantly carried with the breath down the throat and bronchi into the inner recesses of the lungs.

Peps heal and strengthen the air-passages and root-out germ trouble like nothing else can. They end the snuffling and sneezing, the wheeziness, soreness and cough, and prevent those dreaded lung ailments, pleurisy and pneumonia.

This Peps direct method of dealing with trouble in the breathing organs is vastly more effective and safer than dosing your stomach with drug-laden liquid medicine.

Peps are world-famed as a preventive and remedy for coughs, colds and chills, wheeziness, hoarseness, bronchitis, sore chest, early-morning cough, sore throat, malarial colds, etc. Their purity and freedom from harmful drugs makes Peps specially valuable to weak-chested children and old folk, and to all preachers, singers and public speakers.

Keep Peps always handy and protect your lungs against climate and disease.

FREE! Peps are sold only in sealed bottles, with full directions enclosed. Of all medicines venders in China and The Straits.

HONGKONG, THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 1923.

BETTING

You all know him. He is the man with a system. Tips leave him cold; fancy spins him not; intuition he utterly scorns. Nothing will sway his choice but system. Just what his system is, you cannot always learn.
Sometimes he will let you prize and of him the fact that he is backing the jockeys; other times he will guardedly disclose that he is invoking the law of averages (though you cannot see how). Men-ty, however, he will assure you with one word—system. And with that you must go your way again.

But these are in the minority—outliers in the very small minority.
Nearly all our Happy Valley punters seek the thrill. When they win they accept Fortune's favour with due alacrity; when they lose they mostly consider the money well invested for the excitement they have had. And that is the true spirit of the occasion.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

One case of plague and one case of diphtheria (both Chinese) were reported yesterday.

The Jazz Quartet of H. M. S.
"Titanic" will play at the Palace Hotel dance on Saturday. Dancing at 9 p.m.

There will be no Cinematograph
Display for Children at the Helena
May Institute to-morrow, Friday,
March 2nd, as previously arranged.
Advt.

Amongst those who left by the
a.s. "Kashima Maru," yesterday, were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Crapnell, Mr.
R. H. B. Hancock, Mr. J. Colin Owen,
Mr. W. L. Pattenden and Mr. A.
Morley.

When the 11 a.m. ferry was crossing from Shamshui to Hongkong yesterday, a man fell overboard.
A lifebuoy thrown to him missed. A seaman jumped in to rescue him but was too late.

A concubine, nineteen years of age, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by jumping into the harbour, but was rescued by a painter.
She alleged that she had been ill-treated by the ki-fat.

Sir William Brunyate, Vice-Chancellor of Hongkong University, returned to the Colony yesterday from Shanghai, where he has been attending the Conference of the Associated British Chambers of Commerce of China and Hongkong.

The Kailan Mining Administration's mines output for the week ending February 17, 1923, amounted to 445 tons and the sales during the period to 72,007 tons. The output the previous week amounted to 41,462 tons and the sales to 79,087
tons.

GODOWN BLAZE

SUGAR ON FIRE

A fire broke out in the Sai Wing godowns (under the To Yuen Restaurant) at West Point, yesterday afternoon, through a kerosene lamp being accidentally knocked over by some coolies.

One stack of sugar was ignited but other lots of sugar and rice in the godown were damaged by water from the hoses. The Brigade was on the scene shortly after the alarm.
Although hindered by the dense smoke
the firemen had the flames under control in twenty minutes.

Insurance to the amount of $150,000, was taken out with the South British Insurance Co.
A fire alarm was also given in First Street, West Point, yesterday afternoon, but it proved to be only a chimney fire.

MOTOR CAR MISHAPS.

Miss Sin, of No. 5 Lower Castle Road, reported yesterday that she was in motor-car No. 778 on Bonham Road, near St. John's Hall (University), when car No. 462, coming from the opposite direction, collided with her car damaging the front wheel and axle.

A coolie employed at the Dairy Farm, Pokfulam, was sent to hospital yesterday with a fractured leg through being knocked down by car No. 645, in which was a Mr. McMurray, of the Peak.

ARMS SEIZED

Two arms cases were heard in Mr.
J. R. Wood's court this morning, both defendants being returned Chinese emigrants who pleaded ignorance of the law.

In the first, a revolver and 50
rounds of ammunition found by Det.
Sgt. Andrew on the "President" Lincoln resulted in a fine of $400 or three months' hard labour. The contraband was returned to the Chinese custodian in some luggage.

A weather-beaten old man who could say "No savvy" was fined $50 or one month's hard labour for possession of 38 rounds of ammunition detected by a female constable.

THE RACING CARNIVAL.

SECOND DAY'S PROGRAMME.

IDEAL DAHLIA WINS THE DERBY.

A VERY EXCITING FINISH.

Though at first there was not much blue sky to be seen the weather was still fine and a good deal warmer when the second day's programme of the Jockey Club's 1923 race meeting opened this morning. "Derby Day" always attracts a big crowd and there was no exception to the rule this year.

The sun came out as the morning advanced and when His Excellency the Governor arrived shortly before the start of the Derby, the course was bathed in brilliant sunshine.

The band of the "Hawkins," playing lively music, added much to the morning's enjoyment.

The outstanding feature of yesterday's racing was the phenomenal success of the Dahlia ponies. Of the eleven races no less than six were won by candidates entered from Sir Paul Chater's stable and he had three seconds and a third to his credit as well. In the Trial Plate upon which, as an indicator of form for the Derby, interest was chiefly centred yesterday two Dahlia ponies got home in front of the hot favourite, Harvest King.

The scratching of Harvest King owing to lameness made Roman Victory a very warm Derby favourite this morning and it was reckoned that a Dahlia pony, either Valiant Dahlia or Orient Dahlia would be certain to run into second place.

ROUND THE GLOBE.

AMERICAN TOURISTS ARRIVE.

TEA PARTY WITH DR. SUN.

Carrying 455 "globe trotters," the United American Liner "Resolute" arrived in Hongkong this morning. The world tourists will stay here till Saturday when they will proceed to Malaya.

The "Resolute" which flies the flag of the Panama Republic left New York on January 9 and, coming via the Panama Canal, called at the usual ports when the Far East was reached. The world cruise is to cover a period of 125 days, and among the many places the tourists have yet to see are the Philippines, Java, the Malay Peninsula, Burma, India, Ceylon, Egypt, Italy and France.

The party is in charge of Mr. Leon C. Collier, assisted by Mr. K. Mygatt and Mr. F. J. Kovack. The skipper of the "Resolute" is Capt. Daniel Malman and the local agents for the liner are Pacific Mail Steamship Co.

Although the property of the United American Line, the "Resolute" as was mentioned hoists the Panama flag, having been recently transferred to that register by permission of the American Government so that she does not come within America's "dry" law. She is a 20,000 ton vessel, 325 feet long, 72 feet beam and capable of travelling at seventeen knots an hour.

A varied programme of sight-seeing has been arranged for the visitors by the local agents, Messrs Wm. Farmer and Co., and divided into parties, the tourists will visit all the beauty spots and places of interest in and around Hongkong. One section of the party will visit Canton and at the Bureau of Finance will take tea with Dr. Sun Yat-sen. Another party will visit the Peak while others will make a journey out to Repulse Bay.

CARTER THE GREAT.

A NIGHT OF MYSTERIES.

Carter the Great, as he is known, fascinated a fairly large audience at the Theatre Royal last night with a wonderful display of wizardry. Right from his first trick to his last this clever magician never failed to interest his audience and the comparative ease with which he deceived the eye was as near to being phenomenal as a magician could get.

Many of his mystiques are the latest innovations in sleight-of-hand science with which Carter greatly distinguished himself last night. With cards he could do anything—make them disappear and reappear at will. Carter is also the possessor of the treasured secret that gives him the "power" to saw through a woman. He accomplished this baffling feat and when it was done perhaps the audience were not so much concerned about the woman as about how it was done. What was known as the ethereal hand trick kept the audience musing over the same query. This hand would signify a negative or affirmative reply to any question which the audience asked of it. Equally sensational were the psychic powers of Miss Evelyn Maxwell who, blindfolded, would read the thoughts of any person in the audience and go so far as to give them their names, what they were doing in Hongkong and what they proposed to do.

Of course this "telepathy" of Miss Maxwell was evidently only possible with the magical influence of Carter. This achievement is certainly the latest word in cleverness and the two artistes were worthy of all the applause which was given them. Another item from the magician's repertoire was an East Indian necromantic conception of the propulsion of the Astral body, while another performance which considerably deepened the evening's mystery was the vanishing lion.

Carter without doubt is as great as he claims to be and is worthier of much larger audiences than he had last night.

BANDMAN'S EASTERN CIRCUIT LTD.

FAMOUS LONDON COMPANY COMING.

"New Companies making their initial appearance at the Excelsior Theatre have created a better impression than that achieved last night by Robert Courtneidge and W. E. Holloway's London Company when they presented 'The Garden of Allah.' This roads well and comes from the Times of India, Bombay. We have seen some good Companies presented by Bandman's Eastern Circuit, Ltd., and we look forward to this Famous London Company who commence a season at the Theatre Royal, on Saturday, March 10th. During this stay, they will present London's Latest Comedy and Dramatic successes: 'The Man from Toronto,' 'The Bat,' 'If Four Walls Told,' 'Ambrose Applejohn's Adventure,' 'The Garden of Allah,' 'Bull Dog Drummond,' 'Abraham Lincoln,' 'The Bird of Paradise,' 'Carnival,' 'The Faithful Heart,' 'Clothes and the Woman,' 'Old Jig,' and others. Quite a big selection of London's best. This talented Company of London artistes have played throughout Australasia and South Africa with tremendous success and have made themselves very popular throughout India and at present are playing to tremendous business in Singapore.

The Courtneidge, Holloway Company consists of sixteen artistes who have London reputations and carries 62 tons of scenery, wardrobe and scenic effects that will ensure the plays and settings being true models of the original London productions. Plans will be opened shortly at Moutrie's.

BROKEN PROMISE.

QUAINT JEWISH WEDDING AGREEMENT.

In a breach of promise action brought by Esther Drevitsky, a Jewess, against Morris Tobias, a cabinet maker, in the Glasgow Sheriff Court, a quaintly worded betrothal agreement was produced. The girl claimed the return of a deposit receipt for £200, a gold watch and chain, and £200 damages for breach of promise.

Some extracts from the betrothal agreement read:—

As the Lily among the thorns, so is my betrothed among the daughters. The One Who fortells the end at the beginning, may He give a good name and result to this agreement and covenant. May the good God say to the union, "It is good; whoever finds a wife finds happiness."

To begin with, they shall marry according to the rites and laws of Moses and Israel and they shall not part or hide from one another any money or valuables. They shall equally manage and enjoy their properties and shall live in peace, love, and companionship for many long days and years.

The father of Tobias undertook to provide for his son the garments suitable for Sabbath days, holidays, and weekdays, "like one of the respectable, according to his station in life," while the girl's father undertook to provide a dowry of £200, furniture for two rooms and kitchen to be ready for the wedding, "which is to take place with the help of God and in a lucky hour in the month of Sivan in the year 5682 (June 1922).

GIRL TO BUY THE KING.

Miss Drevitsky said she had to buy the engagement ring herself. Shortly before the marriage, Mr. Tobias suggested his son should get a share in her father's business. This was refused and as a result Tobias broke off the engagement.

After further evidence the deposit receipt and gold watch and chain were handed over.

The sheriff said it was a question of the amount of damages to which the girl was entitled. Quite a suitable marriage arrangement was spoiled through the rapacity of Tobias's father and Tobias not having a mind of his own. He would consider the amount of damages and expenses.

"LORD OF THE ISLES."

HIGHLAND OBJECTION TO LORD LEVERHULME'S TITLE.

Lord Leverhulme has caused some trouble in the Highlands by selecting "Viscount Leverhulme of the Western Isles" as his new title.

He was made a viscount at the end of last year. He is the owner of many thousands of acres of the Western Isles of Scotland, and is Lord of the Island of Lewis and Harris. A person raised to the rank of viscount has to select some place to which he may be said to belong.

At a meeting of the Gaelic Society of Inverness a resolution was passed expressing regret and disapprobation at Lord Leverhulme's selection. The resolution added that the society believed that the assumption of the title arose out of thoughtlessness, and that if Lord Leverhulme had realised that it was an encroachment on a royal and ancient title, "Lord of the Isles" and an offence to Scottish sentiment, he would take steps to change it to one which would be more in keeping with present-day civilisation and actual fact.

The president of the Gaelic Society of London stated that he was sure Lord Leverhulme had no intention of encroaching on the royal title.

Lord Leverhulme is making a tour of his various European business concerns and will probably not be back in England until next month.

BABY BOY IN DIVORCE COURT.

PROBLEM OF FEATURES.

GODFATHER AS CO RESPONDENT.

A photographer, Mr. Cecil Horace Meade, of Putney, sought in the Divorce Court in mail week before Mr. Justice Hill the dissolution of his marriage, and damages, on the ground of alleged misconduct of his wife, Ada Fanny Meade, with Mr. William Joseph Roberts Glover. Adultery was denied, as was the countercharge of conduct conducive.

An allegation that he had committed adultery Mr. Meade admitted, and asked the court to exercise discretion in his favour.

Mr. and Mrs. Meade made each other's acquaintance through the girl having her photograph taken in 1909 at Mr. Meade's studios in High street, Putney, and Sir Edward Marshall Hall, K.C., in opening the case for the husband. Mrs. Meade was then manageress to Messrs. William Glover and Sons, bakers and confectioners, of Barnes. They were married in 1911.

After the war broke out Mr. Meade, who was then a manager, was put on half pay, and his wife again went to managers of one of Messrs. Glover's branches at Roehampton.

EARLY MORNING BROUHAAM.

As she had to leave home early in the morning Mr. Glover sent a brougham to take her to her business. In 1916 Mr. Meade and Mr. Glover each put £50 into a business, continued counsel, and when they dissolved partnership in 1920 Mr. Glover was paid out to the extent of £2,000. When Mrs. Meade had a boy in 1916 she insisted on his being called Joseph, one of Mr. Glover's Christian names. Mr. Glover was the child's godfather. In August 1917 there was a quarrel and Mr. Meade wrote asking Mr. Glover not to visit Mrs. Meade any more. Mr. Glover never answered the letter.

In the following November Mr. Meade saw Mr. Glover at the flat again, and when Mrs. Meade was spoken to she said: "William is my adviser in everything. You, Cecil, are not capable of doing so and are nothing but a poor fool." The next evening Mr. Glover was there again, and when the husband asked him to get out, Mrs. Meade said: "William, dear, take no notice of that madman. Nothing will change my feelings towards you."

Later, said counsel, when he heard that his wife and Mr. Glover had been seen together on Wimbledon Common, Mr. Meade spoke to his wife, who said: "I do not love you and never have. I hate you. William is the man I love, and you or anybody else will not make me turn him down."

She also said her husband was a fool not to let Mr. Glover call once a week so that things would be more comfortable.

"There is an extraordinary likeness between the baby and Mr. Glover, so I am told," proceeded Sir Edward. When Mr. Meade mentioned the matter to his wife she retorted: "You had better ask William."

Subsequently Mrs. Meade lived at the Rosary Tea Rooms, Kingston, belonging to Mr. Glover, who was a constant visitor.

Sir Edward said he withdrew the claim for damages.

Mr. Meade, in evidence, said the likeness between the baby and Mr. Glover was quite noticeable. Any artist of repute would support his opinion.

WIFE'S DENIALS.

Opening the wife's case, Mr. Ernest Charles K.C., admitted that there had existed between Mrs. Meade and Mr. Glover since the former was a girl a most intimate friendship, but this case was an impudent attempt to get rid of a wife because the husband had tired of her and acted like a blackguard.

All the time Mr. Meade was having his wife watched by detectives, said counsel, he was living with another woman under the assumed name of Cecil and Cyril Raymond. Nothing was disclosed about the man's adultery until he was challenged on the pleadings in the present proceedings.

Mrs. Meade called, said she was now 37 years of age and Mr. Glover about 13 years older. He had known her since she was 13. She denied having committed adultery with Mr. Glover.

Mr. Charles: Is Mr. Meade the father of the little boy Jos?—Absolutely, and no one else.

Where is the boy?—At home.

Will you bring him here to-morrow?—Yes.

Your husband says there is a great resemblance between the child and Mr. Glover—I will leave it to you to judge.

The hearing was adjourned.

BRITISH CHAMBERS BANQUET.

GATHERING AT SHANGHAI CLUB.

SEVERALS LIGHT AND SERIOUS.

An important and interesting week's work by the Associated British Chambers of Commerce was fittingly terminated by a dinner at the Shanghai Club on February 24. Mr. A. W. Barkill, chairman of the Shanghai Chambers, presiding over a large and very representative gathering. He was supported by Mr. Sidney Barton, C.M.G., H. M. Consul-General, Rear-Admiral Maclellan, C.B., Sir William Brunyate K.C.M.G., his Honour Judge Sir Skinner Turner, Sir Edward Fearon, his Honour Judge Peter Grain, Mr. R. H. Clive, C.M.G., Captain Elliott, C.B.E., Mr. O. F. Garstin, Mr. H. P. Wilkinson, Mr. L. A. Lyall, Mr. H. J. Brett, Mr. F. Mackay, Mr. H. W. Lester, Mr. J. T. Pratt, Mr. E. C. Peters, Mr. A. J. Welch and Mr. C. G. Humphrys.

In proposing the health of delegates and visitors Mr. Barkill characterized the conference as the most successful yet held. The Associated British Chambers of Commerce was, he thought, a lesson learned from the war. They now realized that no British community in China could stand entirely "on its own" and that British interests called for united action. Shanghai might for the time being have the largest membership in the Chamber, but delegates from other ports made valuable contributions to their discussions and expressed some extremely sound views, and as long as the prevailing spirit of co-operation existed, the growth of the Association was assured. They were indebted to Sir William Brunyate not only for his part in the discussion on education in connection with the Boxer Indemnity, but for his interest in the commercial side of the conference, thus helping to forge another link between British in China. They had been too apt in the past to regard commerce as their own exclusive interest and to think that other bodies, more especially the missionary societies, took no interest in them. In this respect the conference just closed had been an object lesson in the linking together of British interests in China (Applause).

The toast was warmly received and Mr. R. H. Clive made an appropriate reply.

Mr. E. C. Peters amused the company with an excellent speech in lighter vein in the course of which he ably advertised the practical advantages of Tientsin as the venue of the next conference.

Sir William Brunyate, in the course of his reply, said he was grateful for the friendly ways in which he was received as the representative of Hongkong University. "I put it down to the fact that you regard Hongkong University as your University. We do regard ourselves very largely as your servants. We carry out a policy which we believe to be yours; and which we at least know ought to be" (laughter & applause). Sir William expressed the view that the resolutions passed at the conference were destined to have a very important, and quite possibly a decisive application of the Boxer Indemnity to education. He concluded by proposing the health of the Chairman and members of the Shanghai Chamber which toast was cordially drunk by the visitors.

The Rev. A. Bonney, of Harkow, and Mr. R. E. F. Peil of the Anglo-Chinese College, Tientsin, also spoke, offering interesting observations on the importance of character and discipline in British educational work, and its proved value.

The concluding toast was that of "The Navy," proposed by the Chairman and responded to by Rear-Admiral Maclellan.

MR. R. H. CLIVE'S REPLY TO A CRITICISM.

During the closing session of the Conference, Mr. R. H. Clive, C.M.G., H.M. Consul-General of Legation, addressed the delegates. After congratulating the Chambers on establishing the precedent of inviting ladies and representatives from other Chambers to join in the discussions he said:—

In the remarks I made at the opening of the Conference, I said something about pounding away out here in order to achieve results. There was a criticism in an article in the press, which I read in which it was suggested that I showed a disregard of obvious facts. Well, gentlemen, in an official position, as a rule, we entirely ignore criticism, which may appear in the press, because we are not in a position to answer such criticism, and even if we were we should never be able to have the last word, but I would just like to say this with regard to the question of pounding away on this subject of disorder in China. As you all know, in the months of August, September and October, I think there were no fewer than seven foreigners, including employees of the Shanghai Club, who were killed or injured.

THE CASE OF AN ART MISTRESS.

Why She Lost Her Work.

Rheumatism is no respecter of persons. It attacks people of all classes and of every profession whose blood contains the poisonous acid which is its cause.

Mrs. Hermione Rossignol, an art teacher in Johannesburg, South Africa, lost her position a while ago through being crippled by rheumatism. But since Dr. Williams' pink pills, the world-famous blood and nerve tonic, cured her she has been able to resume her work.

"Having completely regained my health through Dr. Williams' pink pills, I am writing to let you know of my case in the hope that in publishing some others may find relief as I have done."

In September 1918 I had the flu, from which I could not recover. I suffered from rheumatism in every part of my body. My feet were so swollen I could not walk. My hands I could not use and being an Art Mistress, was thrown out of my billet.

In January I went to hospital, but some time after some months feeling I should never recover. They were advised to try Dr. Williams' pink pills, which I did, and now I am strong and well, teaching again and have never felt better.

As a remedy for disorders arising from impure, watery blood or disordered nerves Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people have stood pre-eminent for over thirty years. If troubled with general digestive weakness, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, or nervous debility of any nature, try them and see how quickly and positively they will help you. Dealers everywhere sell them, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 20, Newburgh Road, Shanghai.

After evidence had been given, Mr. Clarke gave details of Carnac's career, which had been ascertained by the police. He enlisted in the Army in 1898. In 1903 he was discharged as medically unfit.

Having re-enlisted in 1914 he was, two years later, sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment for "house-breaking." Since his discharge from the Army in 1919 he had defrauded many people. He was addicted to the use of drugs, which he obtained by posing as a doctor.

At Fimliss he ran up a bill at a boarding house and proposed to the daughter of the proprietress. At the same time he suggested he had a lot of money, and would settle £1,000 a year on the parents if they allowed him to marry the girl.

Mr. Arthur Cunningham, Grand Duke has been appointed British Minister to Ughli.

BOGUS GENERAL.

DRUG-TAKER'S CAREER.

Sentence of three years' penal servitude was passed at the London Sessions on Robert Rivett Carnac, 49, who was found guilty on two charges of theft and fraud, which included the obtaining by false pretences of £102 from the Irish Distress Committee on a plea that he had been kidnapped and robbed by Sinn Féiners.

According to the case for the prosecution this man is an extremely clever, persistent, plausible, and cunning rascal," declared Mr. Percival Clark in opening.

At the office of the committee, he stated that during the war he rose to the rank of general, that he went to Ireland in 1916, was kidnapped by the Irish Republican Army in 1922, and robbed of £800, and warned that if he did not leave Ireland he would be shot. He had, he said, arrived in London penniless, and had slept on the Embankment. "Not one of these statements was true," said Mr. Clark.

After evidence had been given, Mr. Clarke gave details of Carnac's career, which had been ascertained by the police. He enlisted in the Army in 1898. In 1903 he was discharged as medically unfit.

Having re-enlisted in 1914 he was, two years later, sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment for "house-breaking." Since his discharge from the Army in 1919 he had defrauded many people. He was addicted to the use of drugs, which he obtained by posing as a doctor.

An interesting experiment was conducted in London by Mr. Jack Hylton, prominent composer. A little instrument he has invented reveals and records the changes of human emotion caused by the strains of music. The test proves that those persons who outwardly are serene and unmoved by the most inspiring music in reality are deeply moved and secretly influenced by both classic and popular airs.

Alice Julia Lorenz

There were four reasons why Alice Julia Lorenz, 16 and pretty, did not have a love affair with a boy from her school who protested undying affection for her in letters. They were herself, her mother, her father and a policeman. She received so many letters from an anonymous suitor, proposing a meeting, that a policeman was posted nearby, her mother hid behind a tree and her father lurked in a hallway. Alice then met her gallant. Mother applied a horsewhip to the youth until the policeman made her stop.

Admiring the artistic work of Miss Grace Holst, helty Norwegian soprano, as Helen of Troy, Feodor Chaliapin, the famous Russian basso, playing with the Chicago Opera Company, presented her with an autographed photograph of himself, reading: "In remembrance of a devil—Chaliapin"—referring to his favourite role, Cesare Formichi, leading Italian baritone, who has been very attentive to Miss Holst, forbade her to accept the picture. Since neither could speak the other's language, they quarrelled in French. When words failed them, Miss Holst swung to Formichi's jaw and sent him staggering. She retained the picture.

British The Lost Tribes?

Lord Glasborough, one of the guests of the Lyceum Club at a "British Israel" dinner proposed the toast of "The Royal House of David." He said that practically every prophecy in the Bible made concerning the house of David was fulfilled in ourselves. Even the name British had a strange significance, for "Brit" or "Brith" meant "Covenant" in Hebrew, whilst "Israh" in the same language, meant "People." Britain in Hebrew stood for Covenant land. This surely was a strange coincidence. With regard to the Coronation Stone, he suggested that it had been carried by the children of Israel in their wanderings, which had eventually terminated in Ireland, for that was where the stone came from originally. The Coal King.

Herr Stinnes is now well in the limelight, and I fancy likely to be more so in the near future, says a Home paper writer. He is an unpleasant looking man with an air of ruthlessness that fits in well with his character for "getting things done." Thoroughness is his fetish, and I recall that some years ago he made a personal tour of the industrial districts of England, Scotland, and Wales, to "see for himself" the conditions of labour and the position of the coal and steel business. What he saw impressed him unfavourably from his point of view. For he went back to Germany and told his subordinates that they would have to buck up if they wished to undermine the coal and steel trade of this country. He has his streaks of humanity, however, beneath the hard exterior. His sensitiveness to suffering is well known, and he distributes a large sum of money to relieve hard cases of poverty. But his charities are managed with uncanny thoroughness, and he does not allow himself to be "done" by cadgers. Cloth Flowers.

A clever American woman has invented a method of making flowers out of white cloth painted in water-colours. The effects obtained are said to be marvellous, the Daily Chronicle tells us. The inventor is apparently going to train pupils for this work, as an exhibition of her artistic results created an enormous demand for these flowers as trimmings on beautiful and exclusive frocks. There is also an opening for delightful headdresses, and again these flowers could be used for adorning the fashionable wide waist-sashes and handbags now so often decorated with sprays and bunches of flowers made of silk. The great charm and beauty of the "Gloria Flora" as this new art is named, is that the flowers have a peculiar charm of freshness in their beauty and arrest attention by their wonderful similarity to nature. The leaves look as if bending in the breeze and the flowers seem to be actually blooming in their original beauty. Orchids are amongst the most successful of the varieties portrayed, but tulips, jonquills, lilies, violets, roses and dahlias all appeared to vie with each other in colour and beauty. Flowers Losing Scent.

Science destroying the secret of the sweet-smelling old English flower asks the Montreal Witness. For instance, the old-fashioned musk has completely lost its characteristic odour. This is declared to be due to cross-fertilisation. The fragrance of flowers is a means of attracting insects for fertilising, and therefore if a plant loses its scent it will have no attraction for insects, and will eventually die out. The florist's object is to improve the flower in colouring, size, and substance. He does the fertilisation for it. Therefore it does not worry about the exquisite perfume. The common roses are very sweet smelling, but if one goes to a flower show it is noticeable that very few of the roses, often most wonderful to look at, have any perfume at all. Florists do away with the scent of a flower by increasing its colour and size, and all the energy of the plants is used in making up this extra substance. The cultivated plant finds it does not need to perpetuate itself by attracting insects, as man does not waste time and labour producing perfume not required. That scent is Nature's means of fertilisation is proved by the fact that flowers that are wind-fertilised, or attract insects by their brilliant colouring, have no scent. A certain kind of large water lily only gives forth perfume during the period of fertilisation. Arum lilies give forth a scent which attracts bluebottles and flies, and when they have captured enough of these insects the perfume fades away. If man continues to fertilise flowers they will lose the necessity for producing perfume. If they are left in their natural state they will continue to do so as of old.

SECRET MARRIAGE.

SEPARATION THE SAME DAY

A secret marriage, which was followed by a separation from her husband the same day, was mentioned by Mrs. Fanny Attwell Marshall Vert, of Seaford, Sussex, in asking for a decree of restitution of conjugal rights against her husband, Charles James Vert.

Mrs. Vert said she made her husband's acquaintance in 1908, while she and her mother were staying at Bailey's Hotel, Gloucester-road, S.W. He was in the hotel office. They were married on December 14 of that year, the ceremony being a secret one, as she did not wish her mother to know of it. Upon the day of the marriage she and her mother went to Southsea, remaining three months, and on returning to the hotel in London she found her husband was not there. A few months later she and her mother went to New Zealand. They came back in a year, and she tried without success to trace her husband. Subsequently she met him by accident in London, and he told her he was at the Mitre Hotel, Oxford. She asked what was to happen to them, and he replied that he did not know. She saw no more of him until 1922, when he came to London at her request, but again she could get no satisfactory reply from him regarding the future. A restitution decree was granted.
